

NEWS RELEASE

Contact: Erica Neuffer
Group Director
(847) 312-7536
noteworthy lady@gmail.com

Jenna Engebretsen
PR Representative
(801) 691-9764

Nationally Acclaimed Female A Cappella Group to Perform at Covey Center

PROVO, Utah, Feb. 2, 2009 – After five years performing on stages all across the country, the female a cappella group, Noteworthy, is returning to their home stage for a performance at the Covey Center on March 21st at 7 p.m.

The group will share the stage with BYU’s male a cappella group, Vocal Point, and will sing a variety of music ranging from show tunes to contemporary pop to spiritually uplifting songs.

“This is a great opportunity for the community to hear the two local premier collegiate a cappella groups,” said Amy Whitcomb, a second-year member of Noteworthy. “Noteworthy has been around over five years now, and we want this performance to be a chance for Provo to see who has represented them all those five years.”

(more)

Since their start in 2003, Noteworthy has performed with April Meservy, Rockapella and Jon Schmidt, and has competed in several competitions, winning awards such as best percussion, best choreography and best arrangement. In 2007, Noteworthy took first place at the International Championship of Collegiate A Cappella in New York City.

“Noteworthy offers uplifting and diverse entertainment to all crowds, but Provo has always been our favorite audience,” said Erica Neuffer, co-director of Noteworthy. “There’s always an energy and feeling here that just tells us we are home.”

The show will give the audience a taste of Noteworthy’s CD “Green Means Go” to be released this spring.

“‘Green Means Go’ will show the complete revolution Noteworthy has undergone since our start in 2003,” Whitcomb said. “It will show the progression of the last three years since our first CD, and how hard we have worked to be the a cappella group we claim to be.”

Tickets are $5 in advance and $7 at the door. Go to the Covey Center Ticket Office, www.coveycenter.org or www.noteworthy ladies.com to purchase tickets.

(###)